Discussion and agreements:

- This week's plans are quite busy for all of us, so we delegated how we were splitting up Deliverable 4 and that went smoothly and we all now know what we are going to do for this one.
- Joseph and I are going to be out of town on Friday so we are getting the deliverable done by at least Wednesday so we won't have to worry about that.
- We also talked about how our project doesn't really fit the questions that were being asked but we can "fake" OOP so it does, so that won't be a huge problem.
- Our last discussion point was that we all thought we were doing a fine job with deliverables and homework's and we all have pretty solid grades in the class. 😊

Some goals we have for upcoming weeks:

- Complete Deliverable 4.
- Continue updating Trello when need be.
- Work on the next bot
- Finish the next homework
