Discussion and agreements:

- We all discussed how busy we were currently with all the classes and how it feels like we are a bit stuck in the spring break mindset.
- We also discussed the fact that all the deliverables have been posted and how we want to get them all completed prior to them being due to we can have some breathing room towards the end of the semester.
- We also discussed that we thought our D.5 Release 1 went very well and plan on the next release being even better.
- Our last discussion dealt with how we are going to go about completing deliverable 4, we plan on just busting it out earlier rather than later so we can continue working on the bot.

Some goals we have for upcoming weeks:

- Complete D.4
- Brainstorm ideas on how to make the bot better
- Develop some more of the bot
- Figure out how we are going to set-up the future deliverables
- Update Trello
