Discussion and agreements:

- We all agreed it would be a wise choice to get D.5 Release 1 done around Thursday because if we run into any problems we want to have time to fix it.
- We also decided we are just going to create a MVP, which will have a few functional and non-functional requirements that we stated on D.2, we all agreed to make a woodcutting bot because it sounds fun and elementary.
- We also had a nice discussion on how our breaks went and how we all aren't ready to go back to school so quickly.
- We all agreed that we are keeping a good pace and things are going well so that just reassured us all.

Some goals we have for upcoming weeks:

- Complete D.5 Release 1.
- Brainstorm ideas on how to make the bot more humanlike.
- Do research on technologies we think we may utilize.
- Get back into the groove of school after spring break.
